

A hand-drawn architectural floor plan of a building complex, enclosed within a rectangular border. The plan features several interconnected rooms and a central courtyard. At the top left, there is a small square room. To its right is a larger rectangular room labeled 'Abitazione dell' Illmo Sig: Rettore'. Further right is another rectangular room with a window indicated by two small squares. A horizontal corridor runs across the middle of the plan, featuring a series of small, rounded protrusions or alcoves. Below this corridor is a large, open rectangular area labeled 'Cortile dell' Ospizio dietro la Chiesa'. At the bottom of the plan is a semi-circular structure labeled 'Tribuna della Chiesa', which has a small square room attached to its left side. The drawing is done in dark ink on aged, slightly stained paper.
